PROFILE

I'm currently studying BSc Hons Computing at The British College. Since 2021, I've been deeply involved in the tech community, where my passion for technology and community engagement has flourished. I have a keen interest in exploring new technologies, especially in Front-End. I strongly believe in hands-on learning and consider myself an active learner. With decent problem-solving skills and effective communication, I'm excited to kickstart my career in the tech industry, where I hope to make a positive impact through my knowledge and enthusiasm.
